

Once a Queen

Daniel Norgren

Once i was the king, i took her to the town
With belly full of love, i showed her all around She once was the queen, the finest of all pearls, she carried all my dreams, and lightened up my world Hmm-mmh-mmh
when the moon comes up, i wish i hear her breathe the great white fields of green, lays heavy on her chest all i ever loved, my true and only one is melting back to earth and heading for the sun Hmm-mmh-mmh
As i hit the road,
I'm lonely asking me i got no one in the world to keep an eye on me
The first time when we meet, the manors that she had.
the girl that took my heart, will linger in my head
