The Great Unknown

The Ghost Inside

Sometimes we get so low. Downsides are all we see.
Your world is swallowed whole and now you're all alone waiting for me.
I put my faith in the one's I trust to stick it out.
Who never tucked their tail and run.
That's what friendship's all about.
Im sick of waiting for my life to come to me so i'm singing, I'm not waiting.
You wanna know how this all has come to be, cause i lean on the one's beside me.
Go! Do what makes you happy! What i'm saying!
Im done waiting for my life to come to me, so im headed into the great unknown.
I'm not going alone.
Cast aside, left to fend for yourself. Your backs to the sun.
Repeat your words, over again, I don't need anyone!
In a world that wants nothing more than to break me down!
I can take on anything with my true friends around.
You can never hold me down!
Im sick of waiting for my life to come to me so i'm singing, I'm not waiting.
You wanna know how this all has come to be, cause i lean on the one's beside me.
Go! Do what makes you happy! What i'm saying!
Im done waiting for my life to come to me, so im headed into the great unknown.
I put my faith in the tried and true.
It's just you and me, with nothing to lose.
Keep those you trust right by your side.
Only the strong will survive!
I put my faith in the tried and true.
It's just you and me, with nothing to lose.
I have the strong one's by my side.
It's whats keeping me alive!
