A Brighter Day

sang.rÃ¦l

We believe that there will be a brighter day
Situations tend to weigh us down
And it's easy to let 'em steal your joy away
It's always when you are the closest to Almost getting through change seems far away
Everyday we live there's problems all around
Things you can't brace yourself for
And tomorrow's another day I know that it ain't easy
To smile and hide the pain, oh, I've been there before
So I'm telling you
When you've had enough you wanna give up
You gotta believe that there will be a brighter day
Seems you can't go on just stay strong you gotta just believe
That there will be a brighter day
There are time when you can't take no more
Seems like every door's locked and can't be opened
The doubts of dreams ever coming true
Can discourage you but you need to see that
Everyday we live there's problems all around
Things you can't brace yourself for
I know that it ain't easy, no way
To smile and hide the pain, oh, I've been there before
So I'm telling you
When you've had enough you wanna give up
Believe that there will be a brighter day
Seems you can't go on just stay strong
Believe that there will be a brighter day
Goals are never things are clever
Now you finally see it's gonna make you wanna say
All my problems they've been solved
And days look brighter to me
When you've had enough you wanna give up
Believe that there will be a brighter day
Seems you can't go on just stay strong
Believe that there will be a brighter day
When you've had enough you wanna give up
Believe that there will be a brighter day
Seems you can't go on just stay strong
Believe that there will be a brighter day

When you've had enough you wanna give up
Believe that there will be a brighter day
Seems you can't go on just stay strong
Believe that there will be a brighter day
