

Choose You Again

Sebastian Kole

You'll be okay that's what they say
Every time heartache comes my way (ooohhh)
They don't know the pain of living without you
At the end of the day
They lie awake
Praying for angels to fly them away (ooohhh)
Cause that's the way it feels when
I'm not around you See everybody has their own opinions
Love doctors, heart physicians
Try and diagnose my heart's condition
And
No matter what I try to do
Something pulls me back to you, and I
Stay And I choose you again
With tears in my eyes
Every moment we spend
Or every time that I've cried
Though friends talk against us
Who needs their advice?
Your kiss, my addiction
Your love is my vice
And I'll choose you again
Again So our love, dispels
The myths and fairytales
No dreams or fantasies
Its been heartaches
And breakups
Then passion that we make up
It's our realities And everybody says that I should run
But its easier said than done
Because I know I've found that one Every time I try to leave,
I hear your heart cry out to me
So I stay
Oh and I stay And I choose you again
With tears in my eyes
Every moment we spend
Or every time that I've cried
Though friends talk against us
Who needs their advice?

Your kiss, my addiction
 Your love is my vice
AgainThey say its just a waste of time
 Oh its wishful thinking
 Or youthful dreaming
 They also say that love is blind
But mine can see, you and meAnd I choose you again
 With tears in my eyes
 Every moment we spend
 Or every time that I've cried
 Though friends talk against us
 Who needs their advice?
 Your kiss, my addiction
 Your love is my vice
 And I'll choose you again
 Again (Repeat)
