

Second Love

Mott the Hoople

I know you have a second love
Another one you're thinking of What is there now that I can do?
I'll always feel the same for you Why does it have to be this way?
Maybe before we'll change some day
I only hope that you will stay
Can't keep going on this way, yeah Well if you go away from me girl
Well I know that you're not the one to blame
When I see the tears come running from your eyes
It'll make you start, it'll make you start to realize I'm crossed between your second love
It ain't just me you're thinking of, yeah
And what is there now that I can do?
I'll always feel the same about you, yeah
