I Don't Want to Know

Christy Altomare

Sitting in a tight spot
Staring up at the stars
And you laugh

Looking for solutions
But there's nothing to find
In our paths

Staring in your eyes
Seeing past your skin
Knowing no disguise
Will let me in

Noticing desire
Breathing it all in
Walking towards the fire
And back again
And back again

Hold me
And throw your arms around me
And don't let me go

And kiss me
Let the walls surround me
Don't want to know
I don't want to know
I don't want to know

Missing you completely
And waiting for you to call
Or write

Thinking that your probably
With her than with me
Tonight

Lying in your arms
Fatal illusions
Drawn in by your charms

My stomach churns

Dealing with your lies
Knowing you're not all mine
Waiting for a sign
I wanted to cry
I wanted to leave
I wanted to go
I don't wanna know

Hold me
And throw your arms around me
And don't let me go

And kiss me
Let the walls surround me
I don't want to know
I don't want to know
I don't want to know
I don't want to know
