Run River North

I'll be leaving this coffin open
Tell your mother she could sleep inside
I really never meant to hurt you
I never thought that I could make you
Come on, won't you leave with me
Tell your mother to dry her eyes
Nobody wants to hold your hand
Nobody's gonna hold your hand
You know better, I know better
You know better and I know that
You've got a heart of gold
Keep it away from the door, oh the bitter ones
You've got a heart of gold, I wanted nothing more
I can't give up, give up
She'll be coming with the shotgun on me
Hell could only be a break from this
Everybody has a word for you
Nobody wants to listen
Go on and turn your back on me
Tell your mother she can leave me now
No one's left to hold my hand
No one wants to understand that
I found my way back, but no one's waiting for me
