

The Morning Song

Drew Holcomb & The Neighbors

I want to make love after midnight
And fall asleep in your arms
I want to sing away the sadness
And ride the wave until the ocean parts
Let's dance like drunk sailors, like angels and jailbirds
Laugh just like children and tremble like mountains Maybe one more kiss, a word, sing me one more song
Baby let's forget the world, I'll hold you all night long
'Til the morning song
I want to quit all our troubles
I want to see your roses bloom
I want to shake your foundations
I want to send you to moon
Let's dance like an earthquake, listen to the light break
Feel my heart beating, it's you that I'm needing Maybe one more kiss, a word, sing me one more song
Baby let's forget the world, I'll hold you all night long
'Til the morning song Do you trust me, baby with your body
Mine is yours to keep
I miss you, baby let me kiss you
Until the night falls
Maybe one more kiss, a word, sing me one more song
Baby let's forget the world, I'll hold you all night long
'Til the morning song 'Til the morning song
'Til the morning song
'Til the morning song
