

You Blues

Juliana Hatfield

Hit the bottom and bounce back up
The lowest low is only a beginning
These are the words many people said to me
But in a crowd you lose humanity Scared of the future that comes from the past
When I think back I see that this could never last
All I say is all I give back to you
All I think is all I go back to do All I do is all I cant get to you
What is he? Hes the inspiration
What am I? Im a satellite
I revolve around a bigger body
And when I fall I just disappear Scared of the future aware of the past
When I think back I see that this could never last
All I say is all I give back to you
All I think is all I go back to do
All I do is all I cant get to you Sixteen months and seventeen days
Was enough to alienate
After all, love is unbecoming
I turn it off and while away Scared of the future thats made of the past
When I think back I see that this might never pass
All I say is all I give back to you
All I think is all I go back to do
All I do is all I cant get to you
