

Start Of Something

Zac Efron and Vanessa Anne Hudgens

this time of night i could call you up id get angry with athletic ease break common laws of two's and three's and if i die clutching your photograph don't call me boring its just cause i like you oh take me out back, take me out back,

take me back, to the place where i can feel your heart, is this the end or just the start of something really, really beautiful wrapped up in disguise of something really, really ugly wont you,

come by and see me
im a love letter away, ill break your name
before i say, i really love you, love you now i don't care if you saw i watched every inch of film flash across your roman features and i loved it, loved it now i don't care if, you think im eager to shut your eyes well im sorry everybody knows you cant break me with your gutter prose would you believe it she sent me a letter the ring it nearly weighs her down she's got another boy, oh boy steady your ears

steady your ears
and read my lips poetry is not a luxury

its how i break this room and when im really ill wont you cradle me?
man is not a noble animal but maybe woman is remember.. i heard you..

inside your room you said you never really live until your back's against the wall oh did you really mean it oh id never break my gaze just to see the scar reflected in your eyes i think its time to go home

(guitar solo)

oh tell me your thoughts tell me your thoughts on liberty see there's a place where i sink to sleeping she said oh my vote is as red as my blood will you join me for another round? i havent had a chance to speak yet god speed..

i break the law once every week to feel your touch whats a book to you in bed?
do you feel better? older? this just makes me ill your name is dripping from my pen still you're not around to curse ill drop the gun now, im still under you..

marianne, let the ghosts sleep tonight marianne, let the ghosts sleep just shut your eyes and burn the past
marianne, let the ghosts sleep just shut your eyes and burn the past away
