NOFX

Rationalize values, it's so easy to succeed
Keeping your eyes on the prize excess, success
Camped outside Laissez Faire
People understand me there
Don't talk to me we'll get along just fine
Blowin' out your mores
Henry Ford tradition preys
On idle minds left the emergency brake on too long
Underneath the city lies the ruins of mankind
The excavation was a financial success with artifacts of gold
The arrowheads went straight to the Smithsonian
The rest was melted down and sold
Substantial gains, minimal losses are tolerable
As long as the machine keeps running on Cannibals functioning on Pheromones
Rational thought lost to instinctual, huh
