Old Soul Song (For the New World Order)

Bright Eyes

Grey like new day leaks through the window

And some old song comes on the alarm clock radio

We walk the forty blocks to the middle

Of the place we heard that everything would be And there were barricades to keep us off the street

But the crowd kept pushing forward

Till they swallowed the policeYeah, they went wild, yeah, they went wild Yeah, they went wild, yeah, they went wildWe left before the dust had time to settle And all the broken glass swept off the avenue

And all the way home held your camera like a Bible

Just wishing so bad that it held some kind of truthAnd I stood nervous next to you in the dark room
You dropped the paper in my water

And it all begins to bloomYeah, they go wild, yeah, they go wild Yeah, they go wild, yeah, they go wildAnd just when I get so lonesome I can't speak I see some flowers on a hill side

Like a wall of new TV'sYeah, they go wild, yeah, they go wild Yeah, they go wild, yeah, they go wild Yeah, they go wild Yeah, they go wild, yeah, they go wild
