Love Your Neighbor

Todd Agnew

Stopping at another red light
And a man with a sign
Wants my money and time
And I decide he'll probably buy a beer
Probably doesn't even live here
Probably has a house with a pool
But I'm just making excuses, excusesLove your neighbor
Doesn't ask me if I fully understand
Doesn't ask if he's a working kind of man
Love your neighbor
Is a little about him
Probably more about me
But it's a lot, a lot about You
Love is a lot about You
God, You know she used to be a friend
But that came to an end
When the truth began to bend
She lied to me, I guess she broke my heart
And I don't know how to start letting this go
It's just so hard to forgiveLove your enemy
Doesn't ask me if she has apologized
Doesn't ask me if I see things through her eyes
Love your enemy
Is a little about her
Probably more about me
But it's a lot, a lot about You
Love is a lot about YouYou want me to finally be
A reflection of You and You are love
You want me to finally be
A reflection of You and You are love
Love your neighbor
Doesn't ask me if I fully understand
Love your neighbor
Doesn't ask if he's a working kind of man
Love your neighborDoesn't ask me if she has apologized
Love your neighbor
Doesn't ask me if I see things through her eyes
Love your neighbor
Is a little about them

Probably more about me
But it's a lot, a lot about You
Love is a lot about You
It's a lot about You
