I'm The Only Thing I'll Hold Against You

Joe Diffie

Yesterday you walked away and left me
Today you say youre sorry that we're through
Our love will work, we'll heal the hurt, so help me
Laying blame is the last thing I would doI'm the only thing I hold against you
Let my loving arms show you the truth
There'll be no, I told you so's
No matter how much heart ache we'll go through
I love you
(I'll always love you)
I'm the only thing I'll hold against youI know it'll be just like the first time that I held you
When we swore that our love would always last Lets give it one more try, don't be afraid to
One touch and we'll forget about the pastI'm the only thing I hold against you
Let my loving arms show you the truth
There will be no, I told you so's
No matter how much heartache we'll go through
I love you
(I'll always love)
I'm the only thing I'll hold against youSometime things go wrong
Between a woman and a man
I know will make it work
All we need is a second chanceI'm the only thing I hold against you
Let my loving arms show you the truth
There'll be no, I told you so's
No matter heart ache we'll go through
I love you
(I love you, I'll always love you)
I'm the only thing I'll hold against youI'm the only hold against you
