

The Catalyst

Abandoned Pools

I am on your side
You light me up inside
You fill my eyes with stars
It doesn't get me very farJust look around
You don't need no fairy tale to get you by
Just look around
You don't need no Santa Claus
You don't need to make things upBut if there's something more than this
I'll meet you sucked inside a kiss
And if there's something more to this
Then I will be the catalystI wish I could say something beautiful to
Make you fall in love again
But love has slowly faded away like
Spotlights shining in to spaceI am on your side
You light me up inside
You fill my eyes with stars
It doesn't get us very farJust look around
You don't need no fairy tale to get you by
Just look around
You don't need no Santa Claus
You don't need to make things upBut if there's something more than this
I'll meet you sucked inside a kiss
And if there's something more to this
Then I will be the catalystI wish I could say something beautiful to
Make you fall in love again
But love has slowly faded away like
Spotlights shining in, spotlights shining in to spaceJust look around
You don't need no government to get you by
Just look around
You don't need no Santa Claus
You don't need to make things upBut if there's something more than this
I'll meet you sucked inside a kiss
And if there's something more to this
Then I will be the catalystI wish I could say something beautiful to
Make you fall in love again
But love has slowly faded away like
Spotlights shining in, spotlights shining in to space
