Young Heart

Purslane

Young love.
Young love.
Young love..I knew you would grow to be such a special lady.
Even as a little child oo, you had your own style.
You couldn't hide it, You were always shining.
And all of my days in high school, I played the fool.
Still as a young heart, I knew right there and then
You should be all mine, I would have never got the chance to tell
Oh as a young heart, I plead my innocence.
You should have been all mine, all mine.Now that we've grown up, I wonder if your love's untouched.
And how it would've been between us
Want to give you so much. So much, so much.
Reminiscing about you early.After school I'd walk you home for a kiss as we'd reach the door
Then I'd rush to reach my home, just to call you on the phone.
Couldn't hide it, I'd get so excited.
And all of my days in high school, I played the fool.
Still as a young heart, I knew right there and then
You should be all mine, I would have never got the chance to tell
Still as a young heart, I plead my innocence.
You should have been all mine, all mineNow that we've grown up, I wonder if your love's untouched.
And things would've been between us
Want to give you so much. So much, so much.
Reminiscing. [x2]
