

As It Comes

Fran Healy

We used to look at each other.
But now now we look at the past.
We used to go out for dinner
And feed the ducks in the park.
You say that i could be thinner,
I say retract that remark.
And I'm loving you each day as it comes.
I'll never let you be lonely,
As long as you're by my side.
You say you'd leave me if only.
Another tear in the eye.
Another funeral parlor, I'll have to get a new tie.
And I'm loving you each day as it comes.
Time has come.
Time has come again
And all i've done comes undone
Da Da Done
As I lie here beside you,
With jack frost in the air
You look like an angel
With that net in your hair
I kiss you so softly
But you're no longer there..
Now I'm taking every day as it comes
Da Da Da Da Dun
Da Da Dun
