I Remember a Time

Incognito

Sitting here up on the hill
Looking out over the distant sea
I wonder how the winding roads that brought me here
Have simply gone and disappeared
Have been caught up in a selfish game
Now I see my rise and fallI remember a time
I could see forever
I remember a time
When I held it all together
Is it me who's rushing by
Or is time just standing still
Will someone please reach out and help me find
The pieces of my shattered dreamBeneath the shelter of the trees
Trying to find some comfort
From the madness of the noon-day Sun
I've got to stop these thoughts
That are rolling through my head
From tumbling out into tears
I came out here just to get away
Only to see my rise and fallI remember a time
I could see forever
I remember a time
When I held it all together
Is it me who's rushing by,
Or is time just standing still?
Will someone please reach out and help me find
The pieces of my shattered dream
