

Choose Your Fate

Story of the Year

Liar, slipped from the tongue
Like the breath of a prophet
Cloaked in blood, kissed with a bomb
From the heart of the flawless number one
In a home that's broken and silent
The truth will not be heard
In the forceful roar of a tyrant
Freedom is a loaded word
Compliance this morbid code
Leaves the carcass a feast for the corrupt
Where power is love blind allegiance is warmly smiled upon
In a place where thought is abandoned
Freedom can become a curse
Yeah, beggar, choose your fate
The reaction, the reaction is awake
So choose your fate
The reaction, the reaction is awake
'Cause when the meaning fails to be objectified
Lies will carry through
Until you see them staring from the other side
Back at you, back at you
Now, now, now they will try to sell you
For all you're worth, for all you're worth
Yeah, when the meaning fails to be objectified
(To be objectified)
Their lies will stare back at you from the other side
(From the other side)
Yeah, yeah, beggar, choose your fate
The reaction, the reaction is awake
So choose your fate
The reaction, the reaction is awake
Yeah, awake, yeah, awake
Choose your own, own fate, awake
Reaction is awake, yeah
Liar, liar, liar, liar

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>