

My Heart Bleeds the Darkest Blood

Shai Hulud

I have to let you die
I have to let you fade
So spare me the male accusations I would have told you those things you wanted to hear
And I would have cared
The way you thought no one ever would And now my heart bleeds cold
I refuse to be caressed by stone
I now live emotionless and free from your pain My heart bleeds the darkest blood
My heart is cold as stone
A rock feels no pain
No laughter, no loving, no contact
