

Pale Fire (Remastered)

Fates Warning

Walking through a wasteland of words and memories

Looking for the person I used to be

Thoughts I don't recognize make me realize that

Times have changed and so have I

And a familiar fear comes back to mePale fire

Dry land getting drier

Nothing can grow

In the ashes of desire

Pale fire

Burned on the desire

No one can grow

With nothing to inspireThe bitter harvest of a barren land

I'm painting pictures you don't understand

Dust blinds my eyes, makes me realize

I'm choking life with living liesPale fire

Dry land getting drier

Nothing can grow

In the ashes of desire

Pale fire

Burned out on desire

No one can grow

With nothing to inspireAnd a familiar fear claims another day

Wondering have I said all I have to sayPale fire

Dry land getting drier

Nothing can grow

In the ashes of desire

Pale fire

Burned out on desire

No one can grow

With nothing to inspirePale fire

Dry land getting drier

Nothing can grow

In the ashes of desire

Pale fire

Burned out on desire

No one can grow

With nothing to inspire
