Business Interruptus

Rob Crow's Gloomy Place

All the techs are pouring in
Oh, the trouble we are in
And any second comes the trial
Yes any second...

If I held you to the fire
No, you won't confess your crime
And it almost makes it worse
Just how you let me waste my time

(Chorus x 2)
Ain't it real, ain't it fine
Must I ask you all the time
How much anybody worth?
What is anybody worth?

(Refrain)

If you're open to suggestion
Your attention to this file
It's been cracked and overwritten
And embedded for a while

A basic search into your history
Reveals you're open to attack
And if you barely lift a finger
You can get your access back

(Chorus x 2)

(Refrain)

Quickly spot-check your emotions
Those statistics still at large
And the staff is almost vacant
They all want to overcharge

Like your Business Interruptus
They don't want to make a fuss
They've been in control so long now

They're like zookeepers to us

We go nothin', we got bupkis
Trade our stock in your dead goldfish
Won't buy blanks at your illusion
Taking children in our name
(They're not fair game)

(Refrain)
