Notebook

Killing Heidi

I was looking through your notebook, without a lock just like a little book, open it up
gotta have a look, see what you're up to even though you didn't want me to.
oh want me to.
Gotta check up on all the things you wrote,
sizing me up, I make a mental note,
Uncover a sign that's gonna show me what you want to do, what you want to do.
Feel it fall apart now, baby.
'Cause I'm tired, but I can't stay asleep anymore.
And it's time that I found out what all this was for.
Cover it up, I'm gone without a trace,
take it into my secret hiding place,
making it grow big in a little space,
now I'm doing all the things you told me not to do,
oh what not to do.
'Cause I was looking through your notebook,
without a lock, just like a little book, open it up
gotta have a look, see what you're up to even though you didn't want me to.
Oh want me to.
Feel it fall apart now, baby.

'Cause I'm tired, but I can't stay asleep anymore.
An' it's time that I found out what all this was for.
And I'm tired, but I can't stay asleep anymore.
Oh, and it's time that I found what all this was for.
Your roots they grow in the soil of my fear,
Gotta get you all out, I cant breathe with you here.
Your twisted reign felt like a thousand years,
I no longer feel close to the things that I'm near.
No vision appears, I feel clouded and dumb,
I don't want to feel nothing, don't want to be numb.
Gotta purify all those places you've been,
'cause you got in so deep you did damage unseen.
And you tear it apart, apart
And you tear it apart.
'Cause I'm tired, but I can't stay asleep anymore.
An' it's time that I found out what all this was for.

And I'm tired, but I can't stay asleep anymore.
Oh, and it's time that I found what all this was for.
And you tear it apart.
And you tear it apart.
