It feels like the world is watching
Dismissed like I'm now worth nothing
Didn't turn out how you wanted
But my life is not your puppet!
Your reciting from old pages
Shouldn't matter what someone else says
What happened to the part you taught
Called, "No matter what."?

I'm not confused or broken!
Please don't make me think I am
Nothings changed I'm still the same
We both think different
But I'm not you and I'm happy being me!

Well so much for unconditional
This catharsis is f*cking painful
What I expect is next to nothing
I just want some understanding
I'm not ashamed of holding the hand
Of the one who takes me for who I am
Scattered lies and your dagger eyes
Won't change what's inside

I'm not confused or broken!
Please don't make me think I am
Nothings changed I'm still the same
We both think different
But I'm not you and I'm happy being me!

So long father, farewell mother
Send my love to all my brothers
I'm leaving tonight, don't worry
You can find my ghost where you left me
