

By Heart

Erik Santos

I'm afraid of the dark
So he turns on the light
How does he know what's in my head
Why I cry, when it rains
He doesn't make me explain
Just dries me off and puts me to bed
But it feels good
'Cause he knows me by heart
And it feels right, don't want it to stop
He knows what I'm like
And he knows what I'm not
He knows everything about me
He knows everything about me
He knows me by heart
And that scar on my arm
He guessed where I got it from
What I love and what I just can't stand
And he waits when I'm late
Doesn't try to set me straight
He takes me just the way I am
But it feels good
'Cause he knows me by heart
And it feels right to want it to stop
He knows what I'm like
And he knows what I'm not
He knows everything about me
He knows everything about me
He knows me by heart
He sees all
Don't know how he sees through
He sees my black and white
He sees my black and blue
I really don't know why
I don't have a clue
But who he thinks I am
Is who I am it's true
He sees all
He sees through
Sees my black and my blue

Don't know why it's true
But it feels good
'Cause he knows me by heart
And it feels right to want it to stop
He knows what I'm like
And he knows what I'm not
He knows everything about me
He knows everything about me
He knows me
