

Fkn Rebellion

Punkin pie

Twenty years from now where will I be
Moving along happily
Will I love everyone who loves me
Or will they all eventually leave.

It's so hard to sleep these days,
But it's even harder to stay awake
I'm just moving, I'm just walking, I'm just running, I'm just talking
And will I eventually even out
Or will I eventually start to doubt
All of the things that I think I know now,
Do I know what I know, do I really know?
Everybody hurts and everyone cries and everyone likes to tell lies
And I am everyone and so are you, so let's just try not to get confused
The world is an amazing place
And I really like to stay awake
With you in my arms, holding me tight
And I tell you about all the things I tried.

Lyrics submitted by Nathan Wolf.

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnllyrics.com/>