Wanderings

Lunatic Soul

I am walking
Through the valley of the shadow of your name
It's been another after-life-time
Since you left me here this way
How about a little game of chess
How about we roll the dice
What can I do
Where should I go now
I want to look into your eyesDrifting in the state of limbo
Condemned to idleness
Listen to the sound of distant memories
Passing through the white hourglassJust wandering aroundLooking for the way to my home
I've lived someone else's life
Waiting for the perfect moment
I've lost all track of timeWhat can I do
Where should I go now
I want to look into your eyes
Listen to the sound of distant memories
Passing through the white hourglassIn the middle of light and darkness
In the middle of bright and shade
I was trying to afford your kiss
I was trying to escape
Now I'm the soul
Banished to everlasting wanderings

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/