Windows

N.e.r.d.

Every single night I'm staring in her window
She's fresh in a towel and the lights are dimmed low
If you seen, what I've seen, she's a 10 yo
You would be, staring in her window
You would be, staring in her window
My best friend said I couldn't do this no more
Well, I guess that means I'm very different from my friend so
'Cause you seen, what I've seen, she's a 10 yo
You would be, staring in her window
You would be, staring in her window
Look at her, she's my medicine
In those magazines and all that estrogen
I bet she'll like me but my conscious says to guess again

If she ever did, I would be ready then
The best time to watch is like 1or 2 o'clock
In the fucking world she can come over and rock
I wonder if she will be down with it a lot
She's taking off her clothes and 'bout to close the window
She's like the bill through my gates that was entitled windows
She said, don't go Microsoft, you like it when I've been low
I said, I see, what you mean 'cause that's my twin yo
And I'm, we see you staring in our windows, damn
They caught me staring in her window
Yeah, oh no
