

Ribbons Round My Tongue

Two Gallants

Oh, lady fair, your stranglin' hair
Ribbons 'round my tongue
I try to speak, my thoughts grow weak
For all the yarns youve spun I heard them say that evil may
Walk in beautys shoes
But if ever I could love myself
Then Ill stop loving you Were you out the other night
Flirting with all my friends?
I heard you told a joke or two
With my name at the end We come 'round home, I'm all alone
Tell me it just ain't true
But if ever I could love myself
Then Ill stop loving you When youre gone, Ill carry on
It was never meant to last
I'd much prefer to sit alone
And dream about the past And so I say somehow, someway
Till I believe it's true
But if ever I could love myself
Then Ill stop loving you

Songwriters

Tyson Hyde Dillingham Vogel; Adam Stephens Published by

TWO GALLANTS MUSIC Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>