

To the Sky

The Cure

one perfect morning i was all alone listening to the blaze of summer drifting
i was falling
i was floating in a golden haze breathing in the sky blue sounds of memories of other days and in my dreams i was a child

and i was floating through the colours of a sky up to the stars and angels

up up up to heaven
up up up forever
up up up to heaven
up up up forever

turning in my climb
i looked down on a lake and traced upon the water there i saw your face
and sang in recollection of the times we shared... then pushed on ever upward to the sky

up up up forever
up up up to heaven

up up up forever
up up up to heaven
