She Don't Know

Vince Gill

Only a memory this morning
My baby up and walked away
In my heart the tears keep pouring
She left with so much to say
She don't know whose heart she's breaking
She don't know my dream lies still
She don't know how much she's taking
She don't know and never will
I can't sleep, I've gotta find her
I've got to make her understand
Although another love may bind her
No one can love her like I can
She don't know whose heart she's breaking

She don't know my dream lies still
She don't know how much she's taking
She don't know and never will
She don't know whose heart she's breaking
She don't know my dream lies still
She don't know how much she's taking
She don't know and never will
She don't know
(She don't know)
She don't know
(She don't know)
She don't know
(She don't know)
