Eventually

Geoff Farina

Nothing in this body and this house work to well
Leaky back windows and a back shot to hell
It takes so much time to make it go like it should
But it's all for you, and I still wonder if you would
If it were you
Downpours and traffic are headed straight for me
I'd make it home on time, but I can barely see
I'm thinking all of the horses eventually lose
All of the girl friends eventually choose someone new.
