

Self Destruction Blues

Hanoi Rocks

It was a Monday morning when the blues came falling on me

It was a Monday morning when the blues came falling on me

Now it's Saturday evening and still got a hold on me And it was a Monday morning when my baby left me

It was a Monday morning when my baby left me

Well, she's walking down the street and stopping every man she meets Now I'm sitting at the table with a breakfast made for two

Sitting at the table with a breakfast made for two

Oh please, dear Lord, help me get rid of my self destruction blues
