Beautiful

Nick Lachey

I see you're looking for yourself tonight
And I know you're gonna sell your soul under the lights
And I hear the emptiness that echoes in your cries
Someday I pray that you will finally realize
You're beautiful, that's all that I can say
Unforgettable, I'm caught in every way
Don't ever let the mirror tell you lies
Just look at your reflection through my eyes
You're beautiful
It seems you always keep one foot outside the door
So sad you got it all but still you long for more
And you cry so desperate for your place among the stars
But why you're searching for what you already are
You're beautiful, that's all that I can say

Unforgettable, I'm caught in every way
Don't ever let the mirror tell you lies
Just look at your reflection through my eyes
You're beautiful
Feeling you start to drift away from me
Back to the empty place you used to be
How do I get to you, to you?
Is all that I can say
Unforgettable, I'm caught in every way
You're beautiful, you're so beautiful
Don't ever let the mirror tell you lies
Just look at your reflection through my eyes
You're beautiful
