

In My Head

Poynte

I'm reaching out without a sound

My pride falls to the floor again

Inside my mind I search to find

 A place just to call my own

 Deep inside Your eyes

 I am blinded by Your love

Still I run so far just to find that

 I'm alone again

 In my head, I hear You calling me

And I can't run 'cause there's nothing left for me

 When I fall You always follow me deep inside

 Deep inside, deep inside of my head

I just can't last as these feelings pass

 Once again I hide the pain inside

 The smile wears thin and the lies begin

 To bring me down again

 When I run I run so far away from You

I hide the pain and all the lies deep inside again

 And all my faith I put in You

 This time You take it all away

 Inside my head

 Deep inside

 My head
