

I Do Not Care for the Winter Sun

Beach House

Snowflakes that fall across my eye
Cannot compare to a dumb surprise new becomes all
    What's all is new
When I first layed my eyes on you I do not care for the winter sun
Windows and fires all they preach you, all
    It doesn't matter
    This time of year
Thou darkness come
    so quick in time
    shortens our days
    To longer nights
Build a blue fire and leave this sign
Snowflakes that fall across our eyes
    It's all that matters
    This time of year
    It's all that matters
    This time of year
