The Beast

The Mud Howlers

The devil's a creature I've seen before and now I'm sure this beast can roar he seduced me in a marvelous way and felt superpowers for the rest of the day now I'm standing at the end of the world feeling paralyzed inside a maze of walls my heart is shaking cause I've been mistakingWhere will he take me after all I've done
I don't know where to run and what's done is done
Where will he take me after all I've done I don't know where to run and what's done is doneWhen you realize the beast can roar and you can't seem to find the door Hold on defy the fear stay numb inside your mind cause life goes in a blink of an eye so you better act before you die and you'll end up in a field of sunflowers feeling full of magical powersWhere will he take me after all I've done
I don't know where to run and what's done is done
Where will he take me after all I've done
I don't know where to run and what's done is done
