

Fantasy

Anya Marina

you only come out late at night just like an animal in the moonlight you're wrapped up tight in mystery you got me so fogged in that I can't even see my friends say I'm caught up in fairytales and dreams and I confess with you it feels like make-believe

'cause you're a fantasy you're just a fantasy, yeah you're a fantasy, darling, to me do I really think I see you in the moonlight?

really wanna hold you cause it feels right I really wanna see you tonight last night i swore i heard you call my name called through my window, took my hand and stole me away went to the drive-in speeding like a runaway train woke up and smelled your scent in the morning rain

my friends say I'm caught up in fairytales and dreams

do I really think I see you in the moonlight?
I really wanna see you tonight...

woke up this morning couldn't get you out of my head and I tried to call you up but the number was dead I drove by your place convinced that you'd still be around but I saw a wrecking ball a-tear your house down my friends say I'm caught up in fairytales and dreams

do I really think I see you in the moonlight?
really wanna see you tonight
really wanna see you sleep-tight..
