

Back Again

Musiq Soulchild

Yes, I really thought it was over, baby
But uh, I guess not huh?
Yeah, but it's cool, it's all love, uh, aye, but How can I even think after you made a scene
You and me are good again like nothin' happened?
Oh, and it's kinda hard to forget what you said
When you left out that door said you don't love me no more And now you wanna sit and talk, but you don't really wanna talk
You just wanna see if you can get things back the way they use to
You wanted change so you just walked out
But your new love didn't work out
So now you think you can just come back when you want I thought it was over but here you come back again
Welcome back, welcome back, welcome back, girl
I thought it was over but here you come back again
Welcome back, welcome back, welcome back, girl Thought that I had it all figured out, I had it all planned I thought
There was gonna be a happy ending
But you chose to let go don't you know once you leave
There ain't no baby, please can we just go somewhere To be alone and talk but I don't really wanna talk 'cause
You just wanna see if you can get things back the way they use to
You wanted change so you just walked out
But your new love didn't work out
So now you think you can just come back when you want I thought it was over but here you come back again
Welcome back, welcome back, welcome back, girl
I thought it was over but here you come back again
Welcome back, welcome back, welcome back, girl It's nice to know that you been thinkin' 'bout the love
We once had, but getting over you was hard
'Cause I thought there was nothing left for us
Now you say you havin' second thoughts I thought it was over but here you come back again
Welcome back, welcome back, welcome back, girl
I thought it was over but here you come back again
Welcome back, welcome back, welcome back, girl I thought it was over but here you come back again
Welcome back, welcome back, welcome back, girl
I thought it was over but here you come back again
Welcome back, welcome back, welcome back, girl
