

I Choose You

Point of Grace

John Waller, Jason Hoard, Scott Johnson, Matt Adkins All our mind's attention

All our hearts affection

Every heart-cry, every rhyme

Everybody's worshipping something All our life's devotion

Has been set in motion

Religions dozen for a dime

Everybody's worshipping something 'Cause that's what we were made to do Chorus

And I choose You

All my attention, affection

And all my devotion's for You

If everybody's worshipping something

I choose You You are beyond conception

Defying definition

And You knew me before time Centuries of pagans

Idols fill the nations

But You are Lord to me and mine

Everybody's worshipping something 'Cause that's what we were made to do...oh oh Chorus Before I chose You,

You first chose me

I worship You, You alone are worthy You alone deserve it-all of my worship

Lord I choose You

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>