Terrateya

Smell the blood
Hear the moan
Another plunge into the unknown
My heartbeat slow and strongLike a machine my body puts itself in hot pursuit
All my systems are set to engage
But charging forward theres an image blocking my intent
Its interfering calmly with my rageYou were my blossom of hope
In my nights of cruelty
My shelter and sunrise
You were blind to my curse
Didnt know and didnt see
I saw bliss glow in your eyesLike a rock
Inside my chest
Your image fights with my unrest
My rage starts falteringThen theres a noise that puts my instincts back in overdrive
They reconquer all control
All thats left of you: a fading echo in my mind
The darkness spreading from my black soulYou were my blossom of hope
In my nights of cruelty
My shelter and sunrise
And when you realized my fate
I prayed you would understand
But I saw fear scream from your eyes
And all went darkYou were my blossom of hope
In my nights of cruelty
My shelter and sunrise
And when you realized my fate
I prayed you would understand
But I saw fear scream from your eyesFear screamed from your eyes
Its still screaming in my heart
But I cannot let it go
And now Im old
And now Im lost
And I still hide from everyone
And I will never let you go
Never let you go
