

Sleepyhead

Bows

You're right, I just messed up again
Last night a bridge too far
You should have seen the lecherous beerguts
And lush velveteen
A compliment comes easy
When you've lost all you have
It's late and you won't notice me
I'll wait until you do
Stay awake and make do with what's left of you
Or fake it and take it on the chin
When will I see you?
I can never get this right
I just want to breathe and feel you
All mine, all mine
