Golden

Aslyn

Number one, we had fun but it wasn't really serious
'Cause we were much too young
Number two, felt more true with each line
Number three, chemistry but inevitably wrong for me
Number four, he was too old for meAnd I never loved so hard, never hurt so bad
Never been such a fool for love
And I never want so bad, just to do it all againFind one who's golden, never let go when it's love
Or you'll find yourself waiting alone
And you'll dream back the way that it was
And wonder which was love, oh, which was loveNumber five, hello, goodbye
He was sorta famous, so it was a story for a while Number six, why should color matter?
And number seven, should be revvin' but he wanted to get deep too fast
Number eight, vulnerable meAnd I never loved so hard, never hurt so bad
Never been such a fool for love
And I never want so bad, just to do it all againFind one who's golden, never let go when it's love
Or you'll find yourself waiting alone
And you'll dream back the way that it was
And wonder which was love, which was loveAnd I never loved so hard, never hurt so bad
Never been such a fool for love
And I never want so bad, just to do it all againFind one who's golden, never let go when it's love
Or you'll find yourself waiting alone
And you'll dream back the way that it was
And wonder which was love, which was love

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/