

Shame (Re-Recorded / Remastered)

Stabbing Westward

I only see myself reflected in your eyes so all that I believe I am essentially are lies and everything I've hoped to be or ever thought I was died with your belief in me so who the hell am I?
I'm wandering 'round confused wondering why i try the more that you deny my pain the more it intensifies...
I pray for someone to ache for me the way I ache for you... if you ignore that I'm alive I've nothing to cling to I stare into this mirror so tired of this life if only you would speak to me or cared if i'm alive once i swore i would die for you but i never meant like this
I don't know if I'm real without you what is left of me without you?
I don't know what's real without you
HOW CAN I EXIST WITHOUT YOU?
