Loveseat

Raspberry Pie

Salvation army's marching into my home
'Cause I just saw a piece of furniture I need to own
Two hundred dollars, and it's mine today
Now I just need a truck to pick it up and take it away

You've had affairs with beds and chairs
Now come sit next to me
Don't be strange, we'll look for change
Between the exctaseats

Loveseat, loveseat, sitting in my loveseat
Before you go and leave me all alone again
Loveseat, loveseat, sitting in my loveseat
Take a load off, help me break these cushions in

So what, upholstery is covered in dust
And could use a little cleaning? Oh, this couch is a must Can't think of anywhere I'd rather sit
'Cause it's stylish and timeless and even if it stinks a bit

You've had affairs with beds and chairs
Now come sit next to me
Don't be strange, we'll look for change
Between the exctaseats

Loveseat, loveseat, sitting in my loveseat
Before you go and leave me all alone again
Loveseat, loveseat, sitting in my loveseat
Take a load off, help me break these cushions in

Now you may laugh and write me off as a fool
For buying someone's filthy couch, but someday soon
With just a little work and just a little time
I know that you'll be sitting in my loveseat every night

You've had affairs with beds and chairs
Now come sit next to me
Don't be strange, we'll look for change
Between the exctaseats

Loveseat, loveseat, sitting in my loveseat
Before you go and leave me all alone again
Loveseat, loveseat, sitting in my loveseat
Take a load off, help me break these cushions in

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/