Unforgiven

Tom G. Hamilton

You've got your secrets locked inside
You've got them hidden so well
I'm gonna break down all your walls
And find out what you won't tell I know you think you coined the slogan of the master disguise.
Let's go right through the bullshit,
I see all of your lies
I draw my guard, you played your card
You dug a hole in my skin
You cut me deep then watch me bleed
While you claim you're innocent Facing your lies, your filthy lies, the truth is here on your face.
You keep in mind that I'm not blind
My memories cant be erased!
Took your love and wasted all of it
On someone, who could care less for you
I gave my word, everything I said
Came directly from my heart it's true
Don't think I wont forget, the things you've done
Don't think you won't regret, for being fun
I drown my love with you, in the sand.
Now I know you are the one, who is unforgiven.
Unforgiven
Unforgiven
You walk me to the gates of heaven
Now I'm burning in hell
Took something pure and true
Turning into something to sell
Can you live with yourself
You think about what you've done!

This is about the game you play
Not the game that you won
You think your slick, but heres the trick
I'll always know more than you know
You choose your fate, whose masquerade, is done when you walk out the door.

Don't justify your bullshit lies
It's so obvious that you're fake.
Who's fooling who? I know the truth.
This drama is more than i can take
Took your love and wasted all of it
On someone, who could care less for you
I gave my word, everything I said
Came directly from my heart it's true
Don't think I wont forget, the things you've done
Don't think you won't regret, for being fun
I drown my love with you, in the sand.
Now I know you are the one, who's unforgiven
You had your fun, with all that was forbidden
You are the one, who is unforgiven
Go!
Took your love and wasted all of it
On someone, who could care less for you
I gave my word, everything I said
Came directly from my heart it's true
Let go, just let go
You'll be fine on your own
Let go, just let go
You'll be fine on your own
Unforgiven
Unforgiven
