I Break

Katatonia

Sounds of imbalance Sleeps through the never The artificial lightsource Is creeping with flies And this time I break I will never make Another day Defiant to what's delivered I will find a way To sever myself Exit all today You can't see this Did you ever say I break sever I will find a way Visit me when I'm there The weakness of hope Is the strength of decline Remember what's past ways And what I've become The joy of not being Something I need I'm only weather But only to me
