

Your Love Is Better Than Life

Newsboys

Your love is better than life
Your love is better than life
Your love is better than life
Your love is better than life
I dunno nothing that I haven't been taught
I dunno why I was born into the family I've got
I dunno if I ever had an original thought
Maybe not, maybe so, maybe later, I dunno
I dunno how I can end a prayer, then turn on a friend
I dunno what I was thinking when I just pressed 'Send'
I dunno why I still criticize the things I dunno
I dunno, I dunno, I dunno but this one thing I know
Your love is better than life
Without Your love, I'm just a broken machine
Your love is better than life
Without Your love, it's all a mindless routine
Your love is better than life
Without Your love, I'm in another free fall
Your love is better than life
Without Your love, I've got nothing at all
I dunno what goes down the moment we die
Do we get halos and harps? Do we sleep? Do we fly?
I dunno how, when and why this world will finally end
Speculation's gonna grow, who knows best, I dunno
I dunno if I should push ahead or stop and grieve
I lie awake and wonder how to make a city believe
I dunno when it's a ministry and when it's a show
Maybe neither, maybe both, I dunno but this one thing I know
Your love is better than life
Without Your love, I'm just a broken machine
Your love is better than life
Without Your touch, I'm not a full human being
Your love is better than life
If I should ever leave, where would I go?
Your love is better than life
I look to You 'cause You're the lover of my soul
Here's to the lover of my soul
Here's to the lover of my soul
I dunno when to walk away or stand and fight

Just when I've got it wrong, I'm sure I heard You right
And when my arguments are watertight, You expose
Every hole with a flash and a flood and I know
I hear You call in the eye of the storm
And I know You've had my back since the day I was born
Still stoking my heart still stirring my head
You're my pillar of fire, You're the wine, You're the bread
Your love is better than life
Without Your love, I'm just a broken machine
Your love is better than life
Without Your love, it's all a mindless routine
Your love is better than life
Without Your love, I'm in another free fall
Your love is better than life
Without Your love, I've got nothing at all
Your love is better than life
(I dunno nothing that I haven't been taught)
(I dunno why I was born into the family I've got)
Your love is better than life
(I dunno if I ever had an original thought)
(Maybe not, maybe so, maybe soon, maybe later, I dunno)
Your love is better than life
(I dunno when I've got it right or wrong)
(I dunno how I can wrap it in a four minute song but I know)
Your love is better than life
(My grip is better when I'm not hanging on)
(Your love is making us strong all along)
Your love is better than life
