

Pieces Of You

Bellefire

The taste of each season
Ripe on my lips
Kisses of summer, stolen
The fact that I can't forget
The sweet smell of cigarettes
The lonely shadow that comes and goes
Just like you'd let yourself in here at night
And I hear your footsteps
Like I hear your voice when I cry
How can I help believing, tell me?
How can I run from the truth
When everyday I'm still finding pieces of you
My bed is still spiced
With that warm aftershave
The scent of security, the love you gave
Our song is playing while I finish your book
Yesterday gathering dust

Just like the emptiness in my heart
And I'm turning the pages
Hoping to make a new start
(Wherever I go. Whatever I do)
(I'll always be here still finding pieces of you)
I'll always be here holding onto yesterday
I'll always be without you..
(Without you... a piece of me has gone away)
I'll always be here still finding...
How can I help believing, tell me?
How can I turn from the truth
When everyday I'm still finding pieces of you
Wherever I go, whatever I do...
I'll always be here - still finding pieces of you
