

Though My Soul

Charlotte Carslake & Tom Carslake

Though my soul may set in darkness, it will rise in perfect light.
I have loved the stars too fondly
To be fearful of the night.
So it's time to tell the story of the stars that set up high.
I have felt the pain and glory,
I have floated in the sky.
I've seen depths i've forged my Learning
In the dark I lost the light,
My soul kept waiting for that awakening, my heart grew weary of the fight.
Though my soul may set in darkness,
It will rise in perfect light.
I have loved the stars too fondly to be fearful of the night.
Though my soul may set in darkness, it will rise in perfect light.
I have loved the stars too fondly to be fearful of the night.
If I could I'd stride the planets,
I have missed so many things.
I would give away all my treasures to skate over Saturn's rings,
And this legacy I leave you speaks of love to conquer fear.
Come and hear my tale and feelings,
Let me wisper in your ear.
Though my soul may set in darkness, i will rise in perfect light.
I have loved the stars too fondly to be fearful of the night X 2
I may say goodbye my beauty,
but I can no longer speak,
Drow the curtain back for venus
As my vision grows too weak,
It is strange the pearly planet to look as red as fiery mars,
God will mercifully guide me on my way amongst the stars.
Though my soul may set in darkness,
I will rise in perfect light.
I have loved the stars too fondly to be fearful of the night. X 4
